THE EAGLE WILL SCREAM.

The Skylight City will Celebrate the Fourth of July.

The City will put fourth Her Best Efforts to Make a Success of the Entertainment—Nothing will be Lacking in the Program and Everybody will have a Good Time.

In accordance with the time honored custom of celebrating our Nation's birthday of independence, the citizens of Flagstaff will do honor to the event. Her citizens are patriotic and their energies will now be directed in preparing for the appropriate celebrating of our 121st anniversary of freedom. Appropriate committees will be selected and all necessary preliminaries will be made. They aim to make the coming celebration the most elaborate and extensive ever held in Northern Arizona. People from all points along the line of the A. & P. railroad, Prescott, Phoenix and other towns are expected. Appropriate music will be provided. Good speakers will orate, and an interesting program will be arranged. Everybody is invited, and no pains will be spared to make it an occasion of pleasure. The program will be published in due time.

At a meeting of citizens held at the New Bank Hotel Tuesday evening, presided over by J. W. Weatherford, it was decided to leave the entire matter in the hands of an executive committee, to be appointed by the chair. Mr. Weatherford named the following gentlemen as members of said committee: Dr. D. J. Brannen, M. J. Riordan, T. J. Ross, E. S. Clark, Geo. Babbitt.

On motion, it was voted that Mr. Weatherford should be made a member of the committee.

This morning the committee met at Dr. Brannen's office and perfected arrangements for the celebration, the details of which will be published next week. Everyone is enthusiastic over the prospect of a magnificent celebration, and nothing will be overlooked to make the occasion the most brilliant success of anything ever yet attempted in Northern Arizona.

The executive committee elected George Babbitt chairman, T. J. Ross, secretary and M. J. Riordan, treasurer. They appointed a finance committee composed of F. W. Sisson, James A. Vail, George Hoxworth, Dan Francis and Oscar LeBaron.

It is intended by those having the matter in charge to give a $2,000 entertainment, and it is hoped each and everyone will contribute all they can, as on the aid given the Finance committee depends the success of the celebration. The executive committee meets on Friday, May 14, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the New Bank Hotel, at which time the finance committee is expected to report. This last mentioned committee will call on the citizens the incoming week for their contribution.

Charles Canall line repairer for the Western Union Telegraph Company, has been in Albuquerque this week completing arrangements with Superintendent Andy Smith, for the construction of a telegraph line from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Mohave, Cal. Mr. Canall is a thorough electrician. The line we understand will be used exclusively for railroad business.

Our partner O. F. Jackson, left Tuesday for the Needles, Cal., to spend a few days. He has a very severe attack of rheumatism, and it is for the purpose of gaining relief that he goes to that ideal climate. His absence thrusts upon us the arduous task of getting out the paper this week, and any failures we may make, our readers will please draw the curtain of charity in our behalf and "smile" on us gently.

The foreclosure sale of the A. & P. railroad took place at Gallup, N. M., Monday the 3d inst. It is understood that the Santa Fe company purchased the road and that on the same day the Arizona Lumber & Timber Company received a very large contract for ties, and in consequence, their mill will be kept busy for a long time to come; all of which is very good news for this town and the surrounding country, as it means the employment of a good many men and the circulation of a good deal of money.
